Mortimer Environmental (www.mortimerenvironmental.com) is an established and growing consultancy providing ecological survey, mitigation and licensing support alongside specialist bid and project coordination services. Based in the West Midlands, we work on projects and schemes across the country. Our work is interesting and diverse, ranging from support for large infrastructure schemes to high-profile projects with an applied focus on conservation and innovation.

We are seeking individuals at different points in their careers, but each with a passion for wildlife and ecology and who are keen to develop and apply innovative approaches to surveying, licensing and on-site supervision. Successful applicants will also be involved with project planning and coordination, work-winning and client/stakeholder liaison. The right individuals will have a genuine interest in supporting, and benefitting from, growth of the business they join.
